IN OUR FATHER'S CARE

The ships glide in at the harbor's mouth,
And the ships sail out to sea,
And the wind that sweeps from the sunny South
Is as sweet as sweet can be
There's a world of toil and a world of pains,
There's a world of trouble and care;
But O, in a world where our Father reigns
There is a gladness everywhere!
The earth is fair in the breezy morn,
And the toilers sow and reap,
And the fullness comes to the tasseled corn
Whether we wake or sleep;
And far on the hills by feet untrod
There are blossoms that scent the air;
For, O, in this world of our Father, God,
There is beauty everywhere!
The babe lies soft on the mother's breast,
And the tide of joy flows in;
He giveth, He taketh, He knoweth best—
The Lord to whose home we win
And, O, when the soul is with trials tossed,
There is help in the lifted prayer!
Forever a soul that loves is lost,
All share in our Father's care,
The ships sail over the harbor bar,
Away and away to sea;
The ships sail in with the evening star
For the port where no tempest be;
The harvest waves on the summer hills,
And the bands go forth to reap;
And all is right, as our Father wills,
Whether we wake or sleep.

HEARTH-FIRE

KALEIDOSCOPE

BY O. G. W.

Winter, to soothe our grief for summer fled,
Kindles the miracles of earth and air,
Of heat and light and flashing colors fair,
On happy rural hearth. Swift sparks are sped Up the dim shaft. Fire flames involving red, yellow, blue, evanescent green, most rare,
Violet, orange, indigo, are there,
Wreath the gloom of oaken logs o'er bed
Of picture haunted coals; the charmed eye
see iris tints intensified five fold.
The rainbow's self, shining in showery sky,
This flame outshines; and precious gems
of gold seem melted here.
Ruby and sapphire curl
With amethyst entwined in blazing whirl.

Friend Jenkins: "Oft in the stilly night," I catch myself sitting staring at this wonderful enchanting scene before me,—dreaming myself away. I sit and gaze and gaze, my eyes entranced by the dream-glow yonder in the big old-fashioned fire-place, and my soul is borne beyond the glow the great unknown. Only waiting, always waiting for what?

O thou mysterious radiance what art thou?
And whence comest thou? Yet why ask? Is it not enough to admire thy beauty and pause there?
What strange thoughts—such scenes as these—produce in one's mind. If one wants to read mystic meanings into the phenomena of nature, now, surely, is the opportunity. It was seemingly an endless phantasmagoria of sparkling color surpassing anything that one can dream.
At times one longs to be able to translate such scenes into music. What mighty chords one would require to interpret them. It is a fair tale from another world, from a life to come. Sitting here musing at the midnight hour, alone, with none to disturb or make one afraid, where all is silent, Oh, so silent,
one can hear the vibrations of one's nerves.
Enough! The secret of life is still locked away from the curious eyes of man, and his mind cannot fathom it.

But as long as "seedtime and harvest" endure,
and the sun sets, and the stars appear,
—God reigns and all is well. Sunday Dec. 11th, 1910.

The Music Of The Shoe

(George Birdsdy in Boston Transcript)

There is music in the shoe,
Telling us just who is who;
Light or heavy, quick or slow,
Soon may we its meaning know.

Shoes there are that anger speak;
Shoes that always seem to creak;
Children's steps on floor above;
Coming footsteps, that we love.

There are shoes no sound that make,
Lest the restless patient wake—
Music of the silent sole,
Under sympathy's control.

There are steps we long to hear,
When awaiting someone dear
Shoes that whisper, soft and low,
"Where thou goest, I will go!"

A Plant That Drinks.

An orchid that has been discovered recently in South America takes a drink whenever it feels thirsty, by letting down a tube into the water. When not in use the tube is coiled up on top of the plant. One hot afternoon, as the discoverer was seated under some brushwood at the side of a lagoon on the Rio de la Plata, he observed near at hand a forest of dead trees that had evidently been choked to death by orchids and climbing cacti. In front of the botanist, stretching over the waters of the lagoon and about a foot above it, was a branch of one of these dead trees. Here and there clusters of common airplants grew on it, and a net work of green cacti twined round it.

Among the orchids the discoverer noted one different from all the rest, the leaves, of lace shape, growing all round the root and radiating from it. From the center or axis of the plant hung a long, slender stem about one-eighth of an inch thick and one-fourth of an inch wide. The lower end of this was in the water to a depth of about four inches.

The botanist at once went over to examine his discovery, and, to his surprise when he touched the plant, the center stem gradually contracted and convulsively rolled itself up in a spiral like a roll of tape. It was found on examination that the stem was a long, slender, flat tube open at the outer end, and connected at the inner end to the roots by a series of hair like tubes.

Subsequently observations disclosed the fact that when the plant was in need of water this tube would gradually unwind till it dipped into the lake. Then it would slowly coil round and wind up, carrying with it quantity of water that the part of the tube which had been immersed contained. When the final coil was made, the water was poured, as it were, directly into the roots of the plant. The coil remained in this position until the plant required more water.

SKY IS ALWAYS BLUE.

When you go to getting troubled,
And the world seems upside down,

When misfortune stares upon you

With an awful looking frown:

There's a cheerfulness in knowing,

When it's dark for me and you,

That the sun is always shining,

And the sky is always blue.

When the clouds appear the thickest,

And the daylight seems withdrawn,

And the hopeful joy of living

Seems to be entirely gone,

Just remember when it's darkest,

Just a little distance through,

That the sun is always shining,

And the sky is always blue.

So there ain't no use in fretting

At the hardships that we meet;

For the birds are still a singing

And the flowers are just as sweet,

And behind the deepest shadow,

There's a heap of promise, too—

For the sun is always shining,

And the sky is always blue.

Don't Rob The Children

Alas! how often the mother's sacrifice is a double robbery! She robs herself and she robs her children.

But how?

The first obligation on every soul born into the world is to make the most of itself.

When a mother devotes herself to her children to the exclusion of all other interests, neglecting friendship and entertainments and outings and all opportunities of growth—she is robbing herself.

When she so devotes herself to her children, she is likewise robbing them. For by the constant care she teaches them to rely on her more than on themselves.

She robs them of their self-reliance, without which boy or girl is a rudderless craft, bound for the bottom of the sea of life.

The biggest thing parents can do for children is to make them paddle their own canoe—make them pull their own weight from the first moment of conscious thought.

As soon as a child knows how to think he becomes an individual, with rights and obligations.

Mothers ignore the obligations. "Such a little fellow!"

But is he to be a big fellow out there in the big world, pulling a big stroke, mother must begin with the little fellow.

That's so.

Love can do such strange and strangely opposite things.

Mother-love grows strong men and women. Also mother-love grows weak men and women. The difference lies in the way the love is manifested.

GERMS IN ### HER SYSTEM

Every Woman Should Read This Advice and the Generous Offer that Goes With it

The number of diseases peculiar to women is such that we believe this space would hardly contain a mere mention of their names, and it is a fact that most of these diseases are of a catarrhal nature. A woman cannot be well if there is a trace of catarrh in her system.

Some women think there is no help for them. We positively declare this to be a mistaken idea. We are so sure of this that we offer to supply medicine absolutely free of all cost in every instance where it fails to give satisfaction, or does not substantiate our claims. With this understanding, no woman should hesitate to believe our honesty of purpose, or hesitate to put our claims to a test.

There is only one way to overcome catarrh. That way is through the blood. You may use all the snuffs, douches or like remedies for years without getting more than temporary relief at best. Catarrh in general is a diseased condition of the system that shows locally most frequently in discharges from mucous membranes. Local treatment should be assisted by internal treatment for the general diseased condition if a complete cure is to be reached. That internal treatment should be scientifically devised and faithfully administered.

Reckall Mucu-Tone is scientifically prepared from the prescription of an eminent physician who for thirty years made catarrh his specialty. This remedy is admirably adapted to the treatment of the catarrhal ailments of women. It purifies and enriches the blood, tends to stop mucous discharges, aids in removing impurities from the system, soothes, heals and strengthens the mucous tissue, and brings about a feeling of health and strength.

We want you to try Reckall Mucu-Tone on our guarantee. If you are not benefited, or for any reason not satisfied, simply tell us and we will hand back your money. Reckall Mucu-Tone comes in two sizes, 50 cents and $1.00. Remember, you can obtain Reckall Remedies only at—The Reckall Store Haynes & Taylor.
